

UDIA Awards - Seven Finalist Nominations for PAYCE

Sydney : Friday 18 July 2014

PAYCE Consolidated Limited has been nominated finalists across six categories in this year's Urban Development Institute of Australia (UDIA) NSW Awards for Excellence.

Mr Brian Boyd, Managing Director of PAYCE said "I am proud that five of our current projects have been announced as finalists across six categories. We entered a mix of projects including residential, commercial and mixed use. It's a great result to have so many projects as finalists and testimony to the outstanding work of our project teams and everyone at PAYCE, as well as our joint venture partners; Sekisui House Australia and NSW Land and Housing Corporation."

The prestigious awards, now in their 20th year, acknowledge the best in urban development within NSW and the ACT. Many of the State and Territory winners are eligible for the Institute's 2015 National Awards.

The following projects are finalists across six categories:

SOPA, Wentworth Point – Excellence in Concept Design (joint venture partner Sekisui House Australia)

AE2, Ermington – Excellence in Concept Design (joint venture partner Sekisui House Australia)

East Village, Victoria Park – Excellence in Design and Innovation

APEX Living, Victoria Park – Excellence in High-Density Development

Washington Park – Excellence in Masterplanned Development (in-conjunction with NSW Land & Housing Corporation)

Washington Park – Excellence in Urban Renewal (in-conjunction with NSW Land & Housing Corporation)

Washington Park – Excellence in Marketing Apartment Communities

Mr Boyd said "The projects that have been nominated as finalists in this year's awards are excellent examples of PAYCE's ability to showcase innovative, contemporary design, urban renewal, masterplanning and marketing. We transform places and provide residents with access to a range of amenities and services not generally found within most residential developments.”
